

24 Hours at Pavillion Park - Part 2

Introducing:

Burncluith

Philippa

Corona 1

Bottle Tops United

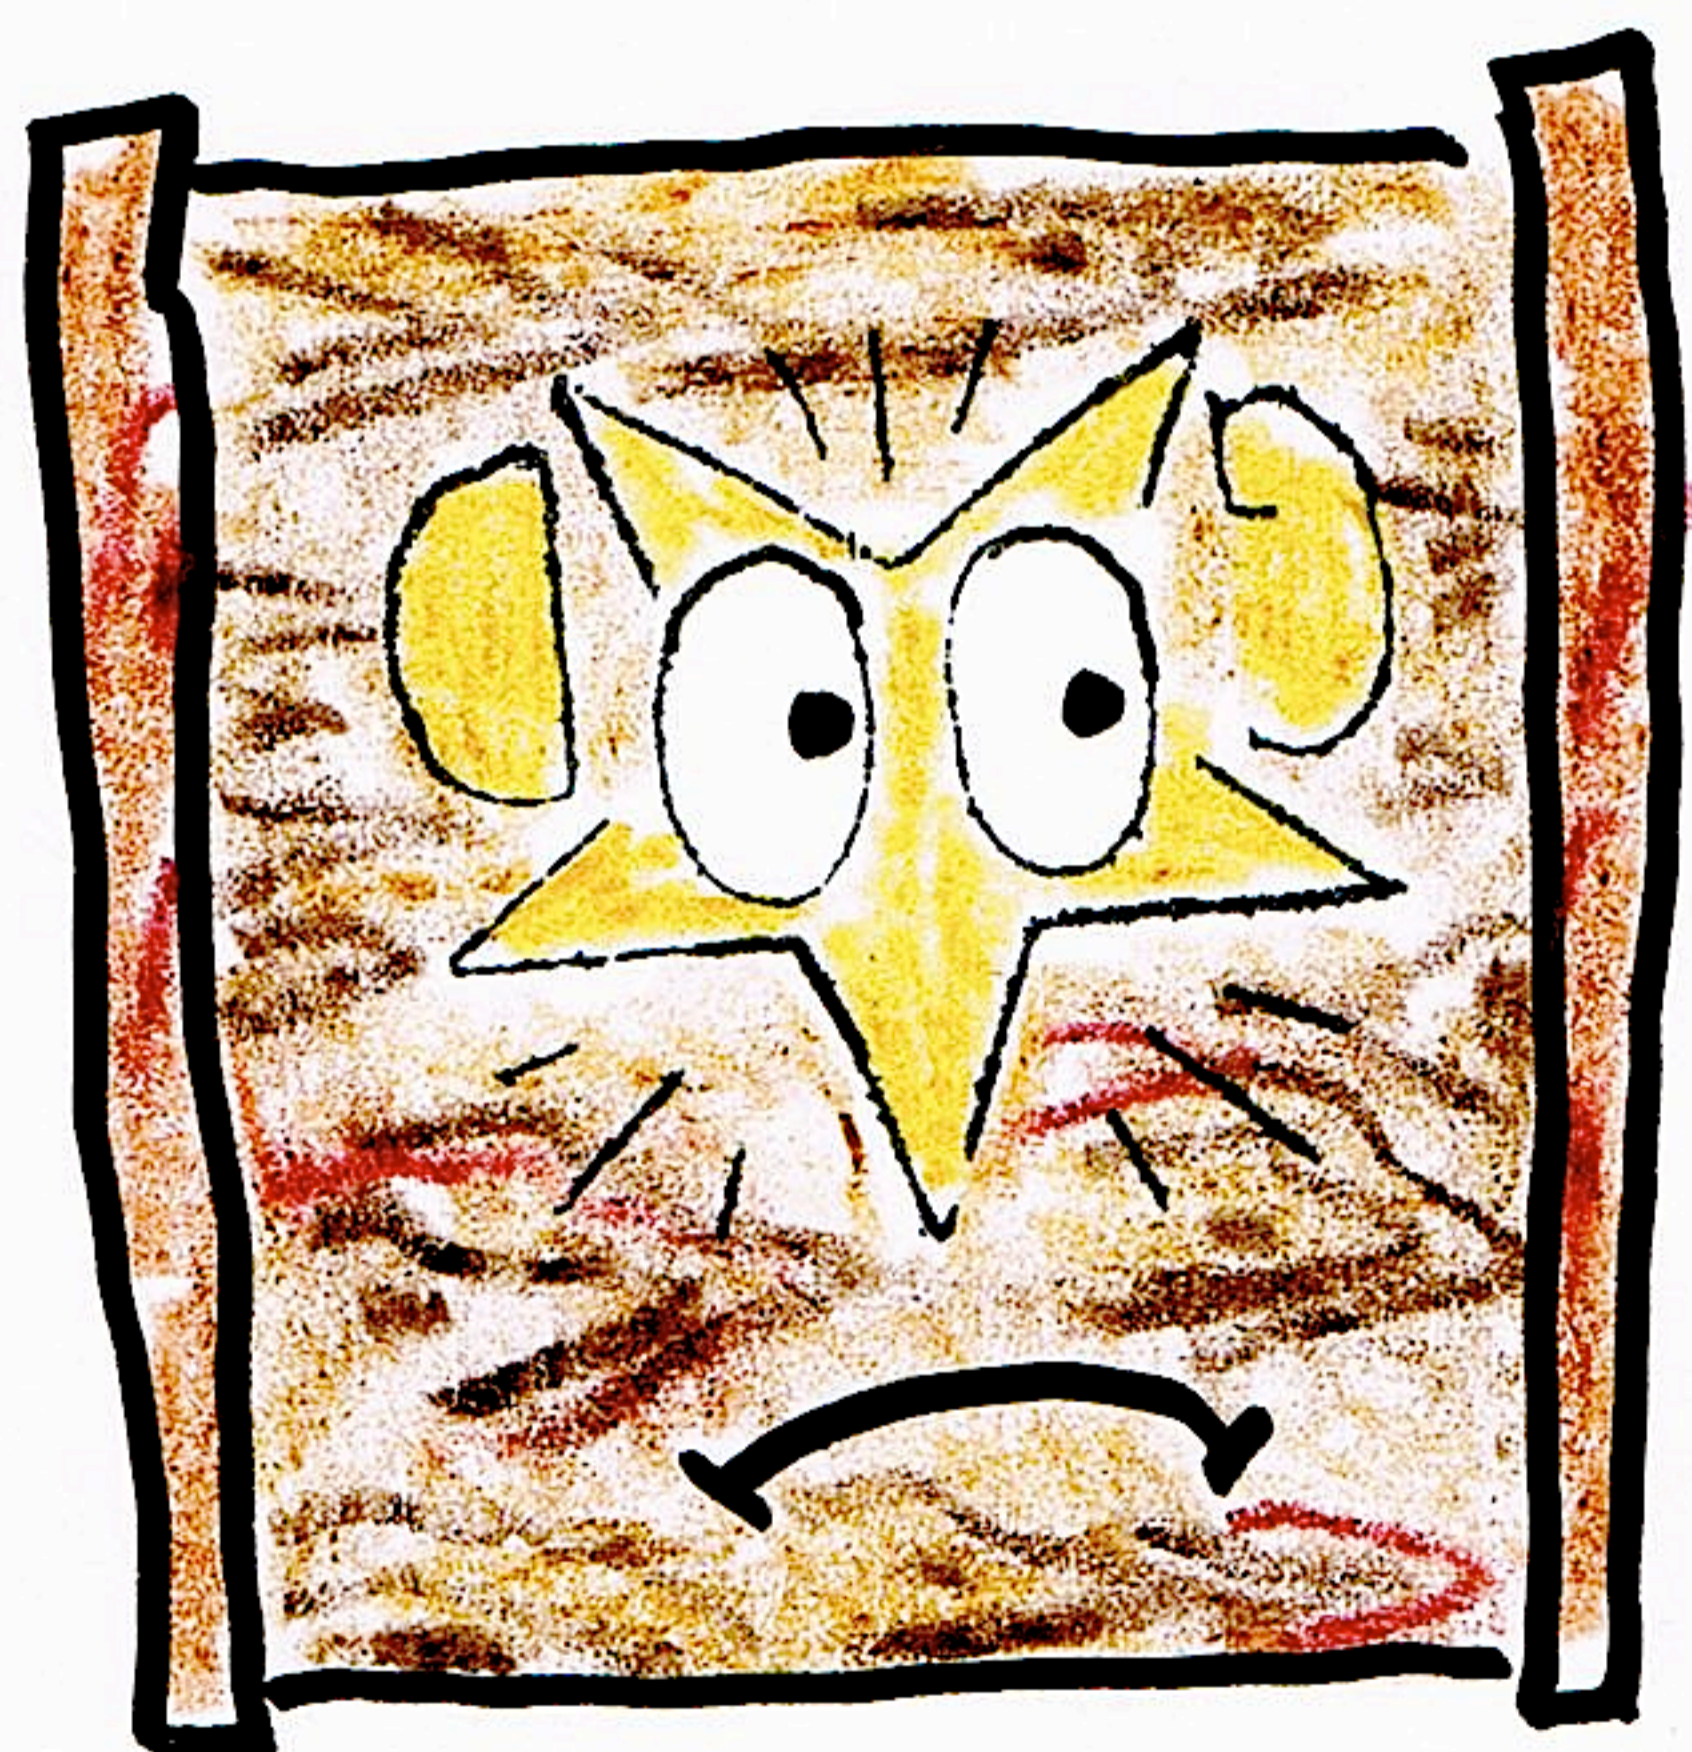

gumtree

mole

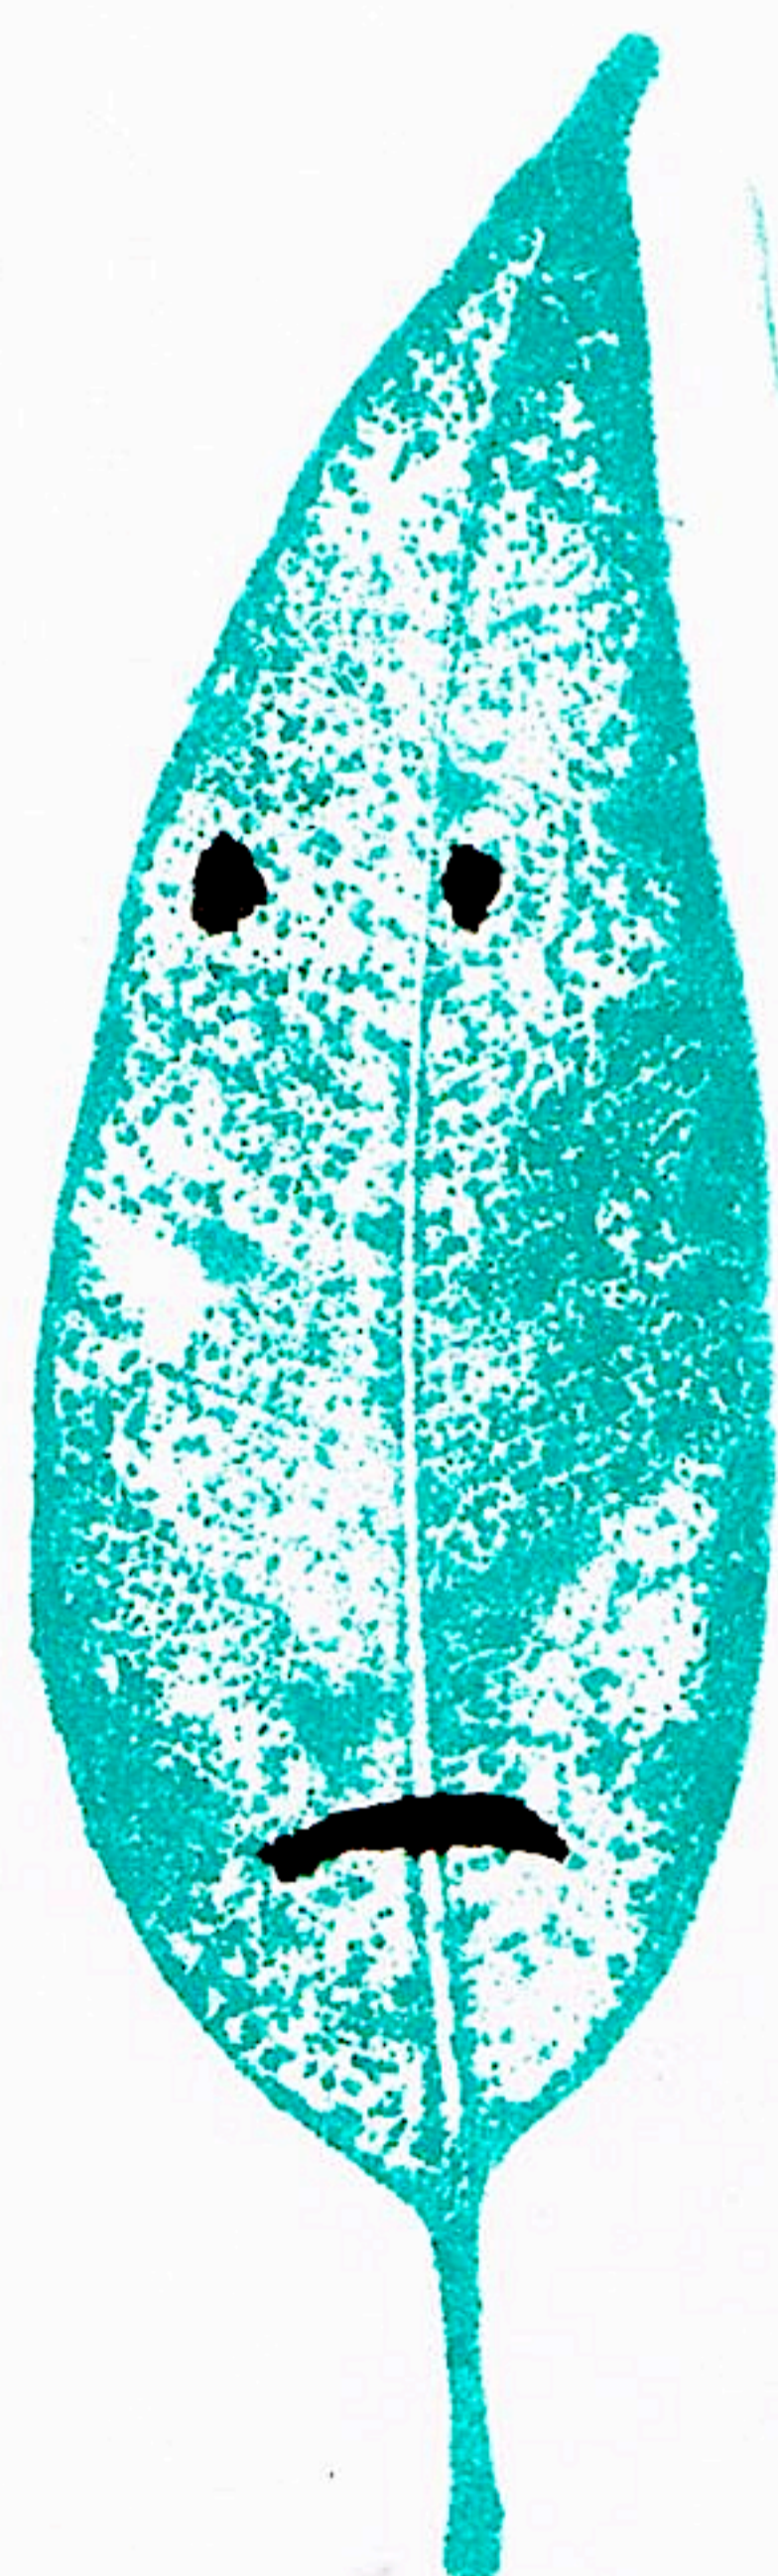

bottle top

all abandoned bottle tops

So far this has been a rather typical day at Pavillion Park. At night things were different. When Kleen would talk to Burncluith^④ it was mostly chit-chat about the weather since that was Burncluith's main concern.

The weather really isn't what it used to be.

④ Burncluith is a 300 year old, 850 m tall RARE bluegum, pictured here in a scale 1:10.000 for obvious reasons. The last 15 years or so he started complaining more and more.

Whenever a MOLE would surface Right under KLEEN, they would discuss philosophical MATTERS. When it was RAINING KLEEN became a refuge, insects AND ice CREAM sticks would gather AND things could go either way, PARTY OR BRAWL.

This day, at dusk, KLEEN had been left far away from BURNCLITH on top of a bottle top whilst a MOLE named Philippa surfaced, she talked philosophical MATTERS straight away.

